

SIS Image Processing Service

In this SIS project I have realized standalone Image Processing Service in Java language. There is several functions to process images like adding noise, rotating and making image negative. All of this functions are processed on RPCServer classes. I have 3 Server classes, so several processed can be processed in one time. All servers takes data from one queue «rpc_queue». To realize this project I used RPC technology and RabbitMQ as the queue.